Marshalls Key Base Tottering

By CHARLES H. McMURTRY

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, Feb. 4 (AP)—Fighting men, tanks and guns, pouring ashore to annihilate the dwindling forces of Japanese defenders, appeared today to be on the verge of conquering all Kwajalein, largest atoll in the Marshalls and core of that enemy defense system.

As the momentous invasion moved through its fifth day, preliminary reports told of amazingly light American losses during the achievement of a strong entering wedge into mid-Pacific positions that Japan has held for 25 years.

RUSSIAN troops driving southeastward from Belaya Twerkov and westward from above Kirovograd trap 10 German divisions (circle). Reds claim capture of Smelna . . . and Berlin announces the evacuation of Rovno and Lutsk in a 50-mile Nazi retreat inside old Poland.

LIGHT U. S. LOSSES

U. S. Seventh Division reinforcements and mechanized equipment in great force moved against tottering Japanese resistance at the south end of the atoll, where 1250 of an estimated garrison of 2000 have been wiped out.

American casualties were placed at 27 dead, nine missing and 190 wounded. The north end of the atoll, with the airdrome at Roi and the adjacent repair and dispersal base of Namur, were entirely in the hands of Fourth Division Marines. Preliminary estimates of American losses at Roi and Namur were less than 100 killed and 400 wounded.

The bulk of Kwajalein's more than 32 islets now are in American hands. The only remaining enemy opposition of consequence appeared to be at the southern end on Kwajalein island, bearing the same name as the atoll. There, where an airfield and a deep anchorage are the prizes, Army troops which landed Tuesday pushed the Japanese against the eastern end.

ANNIHILATE JAPS

"We have landed (more) troops and mechanized equipment in force and are proceeding with the annihilation of the enemy," Adm. Nimitz's communique said.

Rommel Leads New Drive on Yanks in Italy

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN ITALY, Feb. 4 (AP)—Marshal Rommel, master of "don't get trapped" tactics, was reported back in Italy directing Nazi strategy today and Allied headquarters disclosed the Germans have launched their expected big offensive against the Anzio landing head below Rome, supporting their assaults with terrific firepower and tank charges.

On the main Fifth Army front Americans were fighting fiercely in the outskirts of Cassino, fighting with tanks against Germans who had to be cleaned out of rubble-cushioned dugouts and cellars in methodical and bloody fashion.

The offensive aimed at driving the British and Americans back into the sea from their beachhead and the tough house-to-house resistance offered at Cassino appeared to be the twin parts of a German strategy to fight off the Allied threat aimed at trapping a large part of the German 10th army.

On the Eighth Army front there was vigorous patrolling and the British occupied Torricella, southwest of Orsogna and 20 miles inland, where the Germans withdrew from a considerable mountain wedge and left the Allied line running almost straight from Casoli to Sant' Angelo.

The Germans, reinforced along the perimeter of the Anzio bridgeheads, struck four times against the British and Americans who are reported to have poured more than six divisions ashore.

BULLETIN

LONDON, Feb. 4 (AP)—The German high command said today that Allied forces have been encircled in the Nettuno bridgehead of Italy.

"On the enemy landing beachhead of Nettuno major enemy forces were encircled by counterattacks," the communique broadcast by Berlin said. "Relief attacks were repulsed."

The German air force, almost absent from Italian skies for several days, returned to support the thrusts.

In each case, Allied headquarters said, the Germans were repulsed with heavy losses and the Allies improved their positions slightly, capturing 140 prisoners.

The Germans also put in two unsuccessful counter attacks in the Mt. Castellone area three miles northwest of Cassino.

Farther north the Americans found the Germans had been reinforced in the Terelle area and were buried in strong concrete pillboxs.

Allied planes again ripped into Grman lifelines behind the fronts despite adverse weather.

Reds Closing Big Death Trap

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Feb. 4 (AP)—Systematic extermination by the Red armies of 10 encircled German divisions in the upper Dnieper bend was well under way today, the Army newspaper Red Star said, while the main Soviet forces continued to forge westward from the Ukraine to the Baltic.

The midnight communique indicated nearly 10,000 of the trapped Germans already had been killed.

The situation west of Cherkasy, where nine infantry and one tank divisions have been trapped by a great five-day offensive, presented "the same picture as Stalingrad" Maj. Orender said in a Red Star dispatch.

Thousands of German units have become "groups of wanderers" within the ring Vatutin's and Konev's troops are tightening around them, Orender asserted.

The Germans were said to be exhausted, although dispatches said nothing of large numbers surrendering. Generally the Nazis were trying to congregate on the banks of swollen streams and in swamps.

Rivers within the encirclement include the Olshanka and Sukhoy Tashlik emptying into the Dnieper and various streams which pour into the unfrozen Irdyn swamps north of captured Smela.

The weather was springlike.

A dispatch to Izvestia said the situation of the trapped Germans could be gauged from some of their messages which had been intercepted.

"Conditions critical, what shall we do?" one asked.

The reply was, "Assemble near railway."

"What shall we do with guns?" asked the commander.

"Abandon guns, save lives," came the answer.

At the Baltic end of the 1200-mile front the Red army by-passed Narva.

Reds Drop Story On King Peter Pact

U. S. BOMBERS IN NEW BLOW AT GERMANY

By AUSTIN BEALMER

LONDON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Great forces of American heavy bombers lashed out at Nazi Europe for the seventh time in eight days today, battering objectives in western Germany after RAF Mosquitos struck at the same area last night.

Long-range American and Allied fighters escorted the big bombers.

RAF intruder planes also contributed to the round-the-clock Allied aerial offensive last night with forays over northern France. The Nazis, feebly striking back at the shattering blows from the west, staged a "pocket blitz" on London, sending 70 planes out in two waves.

The first wave came in from the south about 9 p. m. and fanned out over three counties. Eight hours later a slightly larger force concentrated on the Thames estuary district scattering hundreds of incendiaries in a path across shops and streets in one London district and starting several fires.

Vatican Violation Feared

LONDON, Feb. 4 (INS)—The German high command in Italy was reported in Swiss advices published by the Daily Mail to have informed Pope Pius XII that the Nazis had decided to take over the Vatican's railroad station for "military use."

This notification, portending possible German violation of the Holy See's neutrality, was said to have been served on the pontiff in the form of a note from Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, commander-in-chief of all Nazi forces in Italy.

The note, according to the Daily Mail's Swiss reports and an earlier Turkish broadcast, was delivered to Pope Pius Thursday by Baron von Weizsacker, German ambassador to the Vatican.

The Nazis, according to official Allied disclosures at Algiers have been moving reinforcements by rail to the beachhead front below Rome from the area north of the Italian capital. It was believed these troops have been conveyed along roundabout rail lines around Rome rather than through the city.

The reported Nazi demand for use of the Vatican rail station might indicate a German intention to use the short-cut route through the capital which the Germans heretofore had professed to regard as an "open city." That profession now may be dropped.

Eyewitness Tells of Roi Mop-up

By GEORGE E. JONES

Representing the Combined American Press

NAMUR ISLAND, Kwajalein atoll, the Marshalls, Feb. 3 (delayed) (AP)—Scattered snipers and unseen enemy wounded remain on this shattered, stinking island, but the actual end of sustained combat came at 1 p. m. yesterday in a little corner near the northwest tip of Namur island as the Marines pressed in for the kill.

Organized enemy resistance was ended and even the battle-hardened Marines were disgusted with the task of wiping out Jap troops who hovered on the borderline of insanity as the result of the Allied bombardment and the ensuing hopeless retreat across the island.

U. S. casualties have been very moderate, although they include one of the most popular officers in the Marine Corps.

JAPS' HOPELESS FIGHT

Only a few score Japs of the original force who garrisoned Namur and the adjoining island of Roi were left as a ring of Marine gunfire tightened about their defensive position, which probably was a command post.

Their fight was hopeless from the very beginning. It was a murderous bombardment, then an inevitable retreat in the face of superior Marine fire power. Light mobile artillery, flame-throwers and bazookas thundered and rocked against the crumbling concrete pillboxes and then the Japanese were surrounded.

SERGEANTS MOP UP

Most remained in hiding, waiting the end which came quickly in most cases. Only a few tried to break the encirclement, and they could not.

I was on this battlefield with Capt. Arthur Hanson, Washington, D. C., when the staccato chatter of machine guns and the resonant thumps of Marine mortars died away.

For more than four hours I had been dodging sniper bullets as I poked among the ruins, and the silence seemed unnatural.

In their two-day battle, the Japs resorted to a few of their favorite tactics. During the night, some crawled back into wrecked pillboxes and had to be killed yesterday morning.

The most ambitious maneuver of this kind involved a half-dozen riflemen who sneaked into a dug-out and harrassed rear echelons until an unidentified sergeant walked inside alone with a Garand and killed them all.

First Sergt. Archie Vale, 45, Grand Junction, Col., was credited with destroying another nest of snipers. He shot three Japs.

GOV. LEVERETT SALTONSTALL

SEN. HENRY CABOT LODGE, JR.

Lodge Resigns; Saltonstall to Be Successor?

By JAMES F. McENANEY
Boston American Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4—Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., of Massachusetts today resigned from the Senate, and colleagues anticipated that he would re-enter the Army, in which he served and was under fire in 1942.

The resignation of the junior Senator from Massachusetts, a grandson of the noted Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of another wartime Congress, was read in the Senate by his secretary, Joseph Larson.

Larson was overcome with emotion immediately upon finishing the announcement. Senators began to pay tribute to their departing colleague in speeches from the floor.

TOGA TO SALTONSTALL?

It has been reported here that, following Lodge's resignation, Governor Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts would resign his office and Lieut.-Gov. Horace T. Cahill would become chief executive.

Then Governor Cahill would appoint Saltonstall to serve until the fall election.

Saltonstall, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the Republican national ticket, arrived in Washington today only an hour before the Lodge resignation was announced.

Seen by this reporter, Saltonstall, down here for a meeting of the American Legion Post-War Committee, stated:

"I have no comment to make on any action concerning this (Lodge resignation) matter. It is all new to me. I absolutely and truthfully say I know nothing about it."

LODGE IN 8TH ARMY

Holding a major's commission in the Army reserves, Sen. Lodge served with the first American detachment of tanks in the British Eighth Army during the Libyan campaign.

According to reports, he will return to active service, probably with the tanks, as a lieutenant-colonel or colonel.

In his letter, addressed to the Senate's presiding officer and read by his secretary, Lodge said he felt that in view of impending "large scale ground fighting," and his age (41), he could best serve his country "as a combat soldier overseas."

Accordingly he wrote:

"I hereby resign from the United States Senate."

Thus ended a service in the Senate launched when he was first elected Nov. 3, 1936.

WALSH IS REGRETFUL

Commenting on the departure of his Republican colleague, David I. Walsh (D.), senior Senator from Massachusetts, expressed regret that Lodge was leaving.

Minority Leader White of Maine said Lodge's retirement would be "a distinct loss to the Senate and to the people of his state."

At the time he sought and won

LT.-GOV. HORACE T. CAHILL

Cahill Surprised At Lodge Move

"This is a complete surprise to me," declared Lieut.-Gov. Cahill today when news of Sen. Lodge's resignation was given to him.

"I honestly didn't know a thing about it. I've got more interest in this matter than most anyone else but I honestly and truthfully had no previous knowledge of it."

Asked if he thought Governor Saltonstall would resign to replace Lodge, Cahill said, "My first answer takes care of that question."

Cahill, who may become governor in the surprising move by Lodge, said the first story did not impress me very much." He said "rumors are always flying around in politics and I don't take too much stock in them."

Soldier Lives But for Today

By AUSTEN LAKE

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (by transport plane)—So here we are in one of England's oldest Saxon cities, where the citizens walk among middle-century scenes in which the second-stories of the shops overlap the sidewalks, or houses have sway-backed roofs and timbered fronts, and where civilization was old when the Indians owned Manhattan. A. U. S. Infantry unit is garrisoned here and hereabouts.

The average U. S. soldier is not impressed by his antique surroundings and has small concern for historic memory. He is a practical-minded modernist, interested in creature comfort like the supply of beer or what he can buy with his flimsy money to send back home.

This is not to give him a dull character. Simply that the casual U. S. soldier mind regards the past as gone with an empty wind. Today is all that counts. Another reason is that all the men, even the seasoned vets (censored) are kept so strenuously busy—though this is called a "rest sector"—that their occasional leisure means only a cozy spot where they can sip their brew, shoot the breeze or promote congenial company (feminine preferred).

So what does it matter is yonder mouldering gate was where sheep-stealers and highwaymen were gibbeted alive? Or that ancient courthouse is where Judge Jeffrys held his infamous "Bloody Assizes"?

They Lie It Now

For your U. S. doughboy, except for a scholarly few, is the world's most industrious collector of Today, and pawner of Tomorrow, who regards his Yesterdays as so much spilled hourglass sand. Let the bearded antiquarians putter about their musty museums. Let the 16th century town clock clang its memories. Come Pal, here's the Bell & Hounds with that perky brunette barmaid. "Hell, we aren't tourists," they'll tell you. And they aren't!

So this was a good day—"good" because this Division's command realize the morale-building value of making home contacts for its soldiery. It detached its Bay Staters from an intown battalion for a general get-together in a barracks commons, where nearly two dozen sat around the walls and waited, silent, serious and puzzled—at first. But before the mass interviewed ended, they had held an open forum and voted to form a Massachusetts club, to meet at intervals. Not that your writer has turned a hand to hallelujah revivals, but that this is the nearest that home has been brought to them in many months.

Your Boys There

And Pvt. Tom L. Flynn of 1446 Center st., Roslindale, a Browning automatic gunner, who used to play center for Bill Scollins' "Proudy A. C." and says "hello" to his mother, Katherine Agnes, and his father, Tom H., a police officer at Station 7. And Pvt. Charles E. Brady of 31 Dudley st., Roxbury, who drove a truck for the A & P under J. A. Flynn, and talked of wife Betty and old times at the Crawford House. And Sergt. Pete N. Russo of 11 First st., Woburn, a mule skinner and company cook, who learned his craft at Fort Bragg, and used to work for J. J. Bumpstead at the Tribble Cordage Co., and who has gained (censored) fame for his accordion tunes (censored). And Pvt. Douglas J. Foster of 10 Prospect st.,

Jap Yank Captive Swap Backed by Hub Leaders

Boston leaders, many with relatives or friends now in Jap hands, today eagerly backed the move for an international commission to obtain release of American civilians now held prisoners by Japan.

Virtually all favored former Ambassador Joseph C. Grew to head the commission and many felt Russia should repay our many past favors by acting as an intermediary.

Among those who promised full support of the plan was E. Mark Sullivan, Boston lawyer and former grand exalted ruler of the Elks. He said:

Leaders in this country should make every possible move to effect the release of Americans held prisoners by Japan. The creation of an international commission for this purpose, headed by former Ambassador Grew, is a most excellent idea.

ELKS WILL ASSIST

"Following the fall of Guam and the Philippines a number of members of the Elks and their families were made prisoners by the Japs. For many months our order has been trying to make arrangements for their release but without success.

"I am certain that the order will give every assistance to such a commission. The commission should be organized promptly and every effort made for a swap with Japan with any country as an intermediary until all our non-combatants are brought home.

"We in America owe this to our nationals and we have done too little for them. Now is the time to act and act promptly."

Another who backed the plan here was Frank J. Benoit, state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, who also suggested Grew as head of a commission.

"The move should have the backing of every citizen of the country and every member of the national House and Senate," Benoit said. "I can promise the support of every member of my organization."

WOULD SEND RENEGADES

At Washington, both Reps. Albert B. Chandler of Kentucky and William F. Norell of Arkansas both were in the forefront of the early fight for speedy action.

Norrell was so optimistic over the plan that he predicted it was well within the realm of possibility.

"I will concede," he said, "that Japan may not want the Japanese aliens in this country, because their advanced age might make them a liability at home.

"But Japan might consider very valuable the espionage knowledge and physical capacity possessed by the many thousands of American-born Japanese who have astounded us in the last two years with their fervent and open protestations of allegiance to the Emperor.

"For one, I should be willing to let the Japanese government have what information these renegade Japanese-Americans might take back if we exchanged them. It might not be so cheering to Japan, at that.

A year ago tomorrow, happy Mrs. Carmela Iannuzzi of Rochester, N. Y., posed for this picture . . . showing her reading a telegram that said her son, Joseph (shown in portrait), was alive and well, although in a Jap prison camp. Now she learns he is dead . . . and, grief-stricken, she declines to pose for a new picture.

Rankin Leads Fight For Veterans' Aid

By JAMES F. McENANEY
Boston American Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4—Discharged veterans of World War II are just as deserving of rehabilitation as the stricken of far-off nations—and powerful forces are at work here to see that they get justice.

This is the contention of Rep. John E. Rankin of Mississippi whose promise in behalf of the American Legion's omnibus bill for economic, financial and physical rehabilitation of veterans of this war today gave heart to more than 300 Legionnaires here in mid-winter conference.

ATTACKS BILL

Earlier, Rankin stated that the bill will be brought out of committee as soon as the soldier-vote wrangle is settled. By implication, he attacked the $2,000,000,000 bill for United Nations relief passed last week by Congress, asserting:

"Whatever we spend for the veterans of this war should hardly be mentioned. It will not cost us any more to take care of our boys fighting on the world's battle fronts than to care for people in other countries not actually in this war. I'm not interested in flood control for the Ganges river or navigation on the Danube."

Later, the Legionnaires were addressed by Gen. George C. Marshall, U. S. chief of staff, who asserted that the people back home still fail to grasp the magnitude of the effort needed for victory.

AVALANCHE IN MOTION

"The Allied advance now is in motion," Marshall told the Legionnaires. "What is now required is the ardent support of our forces by our people at home. I feel that at home we still are not facing the realities of war, the savage, desperate conditions on the battle front.

"Our soldiers must be keenly conscious that the full strength of the nation is behind them. They must not go into battle confused and bitter over disputes at home."

Spain Insists On Neutrality

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ

MADRID, Feb. 4 (AP)—The Spanish cabinet reaffirmed this country's position of strict neutrality last night.

The cabinet, meeting at the urgent call of Generalissimo Franco, also announced it had studied means of making this neutrality respected and that it planned to make all foreigners in Spain as well as Spanish Nationalists conform.

"The government is prepared to submit to no pressure under any circumstances whatever against its right to maintain firmly such a position of neutrality," the communique said.

The Spanish reaffirmation provoked speculation in London as to whether Franco had made a deal with Germany to obtain oil which the Allies are withholding.

182d's 307th Year Is 'Hardest'

On an undisclosed South Pacific island the battling 182d Infantry of Massachusetts, which descends directly from Capt. Myles Standish's little band of the early days at Plymouth, celebrated its 307th birthday today.

An Associated Press dispatch reported that Col. William D. Long, regimental commander, declared the anniversary a holiday to be "commemorated by appropriate ceremony, religious and military, in an atmosphere of reverence and dignity for our honored dead."

All officers and men attended a requiem mass celebrated by Capt. Laurence M. Brock, of Charlestown, regimental Catholic chaplain. Then, after memorial parades by the three battalions and special units, the men released from 23 months of overseas service which has included many head-on collisions with the Japanese. A turkey dinner and a motion picture show topped off the holiday.

The 182d was with the first American troops to leave Camp Edwards for Australia only a few days after Pearl Harbor, and went into action at Guadalcanal in November, 1942.

Home Looted Of $134,000 In Providence

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 4—Footprints in the snow outside a jimmied kitchen window in the Hanover st., duplex home of Mrs. Ellie C. Miller, 63, offered detectives clues today to robbers who escaped with $74,000 in cash and $60,000 in jewels. Police ordered casts made of the footprints.

The big haul, reported one of the largest ever in a housebreak in Providence, was made by smashing open a steel wall safe in the dining room and removing a three-foot floor safe. The entire house was ransacked.

The cash was in bills of $10, $20, $50 and $1000 denominations. The tray of valuable gems included diamonds, gold and platinum rings, strings of pearls and watches. Five war bonds were also in the loot.

Victim of the theft was the widow of John M. Miller, wealthy jeweler, who died three days before Christmas. Mrs. Miller and her husband were sole owners of the Progressive Ring Co., jewelry manufacturing concern located in Sabin st.

The widow told police that her husband's will, filed for probate on Dec. 29, named her and the Blackstone Canal National Bank as administrators and executors of the estate. She explained the presence of the cash and valuables saying she was assembling the assets of the estate prior to arranging disposition.

Police Capt. Francis Buchanan, who took charge of the investigation, said the break occurred while Mrs. Miller was visiting at the home of Miss Theresa Capone, a block away. Mrs. Capone is bookkeeper of the Progressive Ring Co.

INDUCTION AHEAD — Screen juvenile Donald O'Connor reports for induction Monday . . . happy in the knowledge he'll soon be receiving $50 a day pay. That's his studio's idea, not the Army's. The studio considers him such a box-office attraction they have signed him to a $1450 monthly contract to run while he is in the Army.

The Australian nurse whose work has become world-famous revealed that Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Ass'n, had "suggested to me that I leave the United States now because other countries need my assistance." She added:

"I do this very sorrowfully because I feel there is yet much to be done here. There is more polio in the United States and Canada than in all other countries combined."

Dr. Fishbein denied that he had ever "suggested that Sister Kenny leave this country."

"What I told her was that her work needs dissemination throughout the world, that her message needs wider circulation," He said.

Sister Kenny declared that she needs $150,000 a year "to continue fighting infantile paralysis. I need it not for myself—because I want nothing—but students have to be trained in my method, and the Sister Kenny Institute in Minneapolis, the only place where they are trained, needs funds badly.

"I definitely plan to leave America in May, when my visa expires. I shall not renew it unless funds are forthcoming so I may continue the fight against polio."

HOTEL MURDER CLUES FIZZLE, TWO GO FREE

CHICAGO, Feb. 4—Police and state's attorney's investigators, seeking solution of the mysterious Drake Hotel murder of Mrs. Adele Born Williams, today were again fresh out of suspects, clues and hopes, after long questioning failed to produce any progress in their probe.

They are sure, however, that the victim herself never would have been able to identify her assailant if she had lived. They came to this conclusion after studying Mrs. William's dying words, in which the wealthy socialite said she did not know whether the woman who shot her had red, gray or blonde hair.

The two latest persons to be questioned and then released were the Valanis sisters, Ellen and Anna, freed after a 48-hour grilling.

Sighing deeply, Detective Chief John L. Sullivan ordered the release of the sisters, Mrs. Ellen Bennett, 41, red-haired ex-gun-girl and Drake Hotel key clerk, and Mrs. Anna Minck, 38.

Revolts Spread In Bulgar Army

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (AP)—The Office of War Information today quoted Bern dispatches to the Swedish newspaper Stockholms Tidningen as saying reports from the Balkans indicated a series of anti-German revolts had broken out in Bulgarian garrisons on Feb. 1 and 2.

The OWI also quoted the Cairo radio as saying Heinrich Himmler, Gestapo chieftain and interior minister, had assumed "supervision" of Bulgaria because he could no longer trust the Bulgarian army.

Tregaskis Back Home, Works on New Book

Richard Tregaskis, author of Guadalcanal Diary, who was seriously wounded on the Italian front, has recovered sufficiently to return to his home in New York. He has brought with him the outline for his new book, Invasion Diary, which will describe the battle for Italy, and the life of a wounded soldier in this war in base hospitals and bound for home.

The manuscript of Invasion Diary will be finished in Florida, where Tregaskis is bound with his wife to recuperate. He has not yet recovered the full use of his right hand.

Austrians See War Over in 3 Months

BERN, Switzerland, Feb. 4 (AP)—The Gazette de Lausanne printed a German frontier dispatch today saying Austrians believe the war will end in two or three months and that the favorite topic of conversation in Vienna since the Teheran conference was the future of a free Austria.

The dispatch said the Viennese were increasingly discontented and that a constant stream of bombed out refugees were entering the city from Germany.

Nazis Mass for 7th Smash at Tito Army

LONDON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Sharp battles are mushrooming all along Yugoslavia's fighting fronts, Marshal Tito announced today as the Germans were reported massing reinforcements from Bulgaria and Greece for their seventh effort to smash Partisan resistance in that war-torn country.

The Partisans scored decisive triumphs on two fronts, according to Tito's war bulletin.

F. D. WAR VOTE BACKERS SEE SENATE DOOM

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Administration forces—reeling under a smashing defeat in the House—pinned their last hopes for rescuing a federal ballot plan for armed service members today on the Senate, where they are already giving ground.

The House "stood up to be counted" and made clear its position last night, after an 11-hour session, by first rejecting the federal ballot plan on a 224-to-168 roll call vote and then passing, 328 to 69, a bill leaving the election machinery in the hands of the states.

Rep. Vursell (R.) of Illinois, one of the champions of the states' rights bill, termed the House action "a great victory for constitutional government for which we are fighting."

All efforts to put through compromise proposals in the House were defeated.

This was the issue on which President Roosevelt told Congress in a special message that every member "ought to be willing in justice to stand up and be counted."

"We're not afraid to be counted," shouted Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts.

Abp. Spellman Wars on Bigotry

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (INS)—Archbishop Francis J. Spellman of New York called on all fair-minded Americans to join the fight against bigotry which, he said, "in certain ways seems more widespread and more virulent now than ever" and is "retarding America's victory and peace."

In an article in the current issue of the American magazine, the Catholic prelate notes that "great changes" have taken place at home since the war began, among them a rise in anti-minority feeling.

The "tragic symptoms of the disease," he writes, are "race riots, assaults on groups and individuals because of racial and religious differences, desecration of synagogues and churches, and attacks on our foreign-born."

5 Years a Husband, Sinatra 'Wonderful'

HASBROUCK HEIGHTS, N. J., Feb. 4 (INS)—Mrs. Frank Sinatra celebrated her fifth wedding anniversary today, separated by the width of a continent from her young "swoon-crooner" husband, but laughing to scorn any idea that the hosts of feminine admirers constituted any menace to their marriage.

A petite, brown-eyed brunette of 24, Mrs. Sinatra—who was Miss Nancy Barbato of Jersey City, N. J., before she married the then unknown singer on Feb. 4, 1939—spent the day quietly at their spacious, 12-room house.

Busy with her household duties (she lives simply and has no maid) and with the care of their children, Nancy, Jr., aged three and a half, and tiny, three-weeks-old Frank, Jr., she explained that their temporary separation was due only to circumstances.

"Frank had to leave for Hollywood shortly after the holidays," she said. "I miss him terribly, today of all days, of course, but—well, he'll be back in March, and we'll be together again."

Far from being jealous of her husband's feminine fans, from the "bobby socks" brigade to palpitating matrons in mink, she stoutly defended them.

"They're sweet," she exclaimed. "As a husband," Mrs. Sinatra confided, "he's wonderful. He eats tremendously, enjoys good food. His favorites are spaghetti and steaks. He likes to listen to symphony music, enjoys golf and badminton. And he's simply crazy about the children. He hasn't even seen the baby yet. I can hardly wait until he does!"

Barnes Waits Hearing Date on OPA Ouster

A hearing date was expected to be set in Federal court today on the petition filed by Harold A. Barnes of Brockton to test an OPA ruling that a member of one of its rationing boards cannot engage in political activity.

Barnes, discharged by Kenneth B. Backman, regional OPA director, as ceiling price officer in Brockton because he was a candidate for school committeeman there, set forth in his complaint that he had no commitments in his campaign and so no politics were involved.

Lodge

recognition in 1942, Lodge had declared Army officers convinced him that he could aid the war effort more by remaining in the Senate.

He had been reported planning to take leave from the Senate then to re-enter the service, when President Roosevelt issued his order banning members of Congress from retaining their posts while on active service.

Lodge's successor in the Senate, by gubernatorial appointment, would serve only until next fall and the elections. Then a new election must be held to fill the remaining four years of the Lodge term.

In the moving of Lieut.-Gov. Cahill into the gubernatorial berth, the office of lieutenant-governor would be declared vacant. Should Cahill then leave the State for any period, Sec. of State Frederic W. Cook would become acting governor in the absence.

LODGE TWICE ELECTED

Senator Lodge, who will observe his 42d birthday July 5, was only 34 when in 1936 he defeated former Governor James Michael Curley (D.) for the seat in the Senate once held by his famous grandfather and namesake.

He followed the victory up in 1942 by winning re-election over former Congressman Joseph Casey, the Democratic candidate.

Lodge's first venture into politics came in 1932 when he was elected to the Lower House of the State Legislature. He served two terms before trying for the national Senate.

He is a Harvard College graduate, completing the four-year course in three years. Following his graduation in 1924, he began a newspaper career with the old Boston Transcript. He covered the State House for two years and then went to the New York Herald-Tribune and was a member of the staff of that paper until 1931.

He was a member of the senatorial committee which made a tour of the world's fighting fronts several months ago. His experiences in North Africa as an official observer for the Army brought him to the actual fighting front under fire and since then he has expressed a desire to be a memer of th fighting forcs.

In July, 1942, Secretary of War Stimson wrote Lodge expressing his praise for the manner in which he had carried out the assignment.

"Through your experience in Libya you have gained a knowledge and understanding of military and stategic considerations which will greatly enhance your usefulness to this country as a United States Senator," Secretary Stimson wrote.

The Senator was married to Miss Emily Sears of Beverly in 1936. They have two children, George Cabot and Henry Sears Lodge.

Jap New Guinea Bases Pounded

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Feb. 4 (AP)—Allied aircraft pounded the Alexishafen-Madang area on the northeast New Guinea coast with 107 tons of bombs, converting Japanese supply dumps into flaming wreckage, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

Despite bad weather, Liberator heavy bombers struck at Alexishafen with 77 tons and Boston attack planes bombed and strafed Amele and Nobanob missions, slightly south of Alexishafen but nearer Madang.

While these attacks were being pressed Wednesday, other heavy bombers set fire to enemy supplies at Sorong, on the northwestern tip of Dutch New Guinea, the communique said.

Nazis' New Ju88 Tricky, Yanks Find

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—American airmen, having tried out a sample, have decided that Germany's new JU88 "is rough and ready and a plane to inspire respect at any time."

One of the twin-engined medium bombers came into Allied hands last September when a Luftwaffe pilot quit and flew the plane to Cyprus. A card in the ship said it had been flown less than 50 hours.

Maj. Warner E. Newby and Lieut. G. W. Cook flew it to the United States.

The AAF said today the ship "apparently was designed for many tasks, varying from high altitude bombing to ground strafing, mine laying and night fighting."

The AAF lists among the JU88's versatilities its use as a dive bomber. A red line is painted on the plexiglass in such a manner that when the ship is tipped over in a dive and the line is parallel with the horizon the pilot knows the plane is in the correct position for bomb release.

The American fliers learned the JU-88 had some truly surprising tricks. They had installed an auxiliary tank in a bomb rack and, while still on the ground, experimented to find if the tank could be dropped in an emergency. One of them snapped a switch marked "bombenbefreuing" (bomb release). There was a series of explosions and clouds of powder smoke. The bomb rack, shackle and tank dropped off. It was discovered that explosive-filled bolts were used which blew the whole rack away when the button was pressed. With this experience, the fliers did not try another button marked "rudder salvo."

By close study, they discovered that button would blow off the whole tail assembly and rudder—a device reserved, apparently, for demolition when there was danger of the plane falling into enemy hands.

Sergt. Harold Finan of the Brighton police sustained a fractured shoulder when he fell into a 12 feet deep grease pit while investigating a break in a filling station at Harvard ave. and Brainerd rd., Allston. Fellow officers arrested a 16-year-old boy.

PACIFIC FURLOUGHS DUE

By MURLIN SPENCER

AN ALLIED BASE IN AUSTRALIA, Feb. 4 (AP)—The first American troops will return to the United States next month under a new rotation plan which calls for home leave for Army personnel who have served long periods in the Southwest Pacific.

But the plan will affect only a small percentage of forces in the Southwest Pacific.

Army authorities said today the plan provides that a certain percentage—very small—of the entire strength in this theater may be sent home each month. Men who have 18 months or more of service will be given preference and those who have six months or more service in forward areas, such as New Guinea and at Darwin, Australia, will have highest priority.

A considerable number of men such as members of the 32d and 41st Infantry divisions have been in Australia and New Guinea more than 18 months.

nese and then tossed in a grenade.

"They'd keep popping up and I threw more grenades," he said. "The tip of one officer's saber kept showing above the shell hole where the Japs lay."

Vale killed 13 Japanese, including three officers.

JAP BASES LAID RUIN

The battle, however, became true French and Indian warfare—tree to tree, men flopping into the coral soil behind available protection when hidden enemy rifles and machine guns opened fire, then circling the flanking pocket of resistance and finally destroying it with grenades and bullets.

The effect of the bombardment can be appreciated only by seeing the destruction wrought on the islands of Roi and Namur—blockhouses terrifically battered, gun barrels of the coastal defenses twisted and shattered amid debris and the dismembered bodies of their crews.

The entire island of Namur was transformed into an inferno. Neat rows of palm trees were mutilated and burned by shells and bombs. Tin-roofed barracks were crumpled and disintegrated. Sturdier buildings were burned, gutting themselves to their concrete framework.

The explosion of one blockhouse threw debris 3000 feet into the air.

Tons of stores and supplies now are pouring ashore, and the Marines who destroyed enemy resistance in 24½ hours are unloading cargo from scores of landing craft. The crowded beaches resemble Coney Island on a summer day.

POPULAR OFFICER KILLED

Mostly the Marines are sleeping and eating, comparing experiences and wishing they could remove some of the rotting bodies from these islands.

They also are finding out who was killed or wounded. While U. S. casualties were very moderate, each one shot was hard to take.

One of the most popular officers in the Marine Corps yesterday leaped into battle, throwing grenades and firing a rifle, standing upright in a field of fire. A machinegun burst got him.

As his poncho-covered body came down atroll on a litter, one Marine told me:

"He was standing up when he got it."

The Marine looked at the corpse and muttered, "damn fool!"

There were tears in his eyes as he plodded on.

Stagline "handy" means... "Cutting in!"

3-Ring "handy" means... "I'll have BALLANTINE!"

Sign language was the first language. Early man talked with his hands. And we still do! Big-shot "handy" means "Am I good!" Atta-boy "handy" means "Nice going!" 3-Ring "handy" means "I'll have Ballantine Ale"... America's finest since 1840.

Order a glass of "something better" in a moderate beverage this "handy" way. Take one drink for PURITY, another for BODY, a third for FLAVOR—just as Peter Ballantine did when he found his famous trade mark in the three moisture rings left by his glass on the table.

Charlestown, a rifleman with (censored) decorations, and a warm heart for wife Ann (Carroll). And Pvt. Joe T. Vinci of 106 River st., Haverhill, a 30-cal. mm. machine-gunner, who used to sing and MC for Mickey Curtin's dance band.

And Pfc. Edward A. Ward of 26 Alexander st., Dorchester, a first scout, who thanks his ex-boss, Frank L. Angelo of the Motor Co. of New England, for his consistent letters. And Pvt. Charles L. Harris of Orleans, Mass., second scout, who used to fish on a two-man "dragger" named the Anna May, with Howard Walker. And Pvt. Raymond Fuller of Main st., North Oxford, a jeep driver, who used to play ball with Al Javery of the Boston Braves, when they were in high school, and who wants to tell his mother, Agnes, and father, Edmund, that he's sound as a bull fiddle.

And Pvt. Joe J. Glennon of 303 Elm st., West Springfield, a mortar "ammo" carrier, who was an interior painter, and is sending money home—allotments to his wife, Ruth (Warden) to buy a post-war chicken farm. (He's very daddy-proud of you, Frances.) And Pvt. John H. Hurley of 17 Forest st., Cambridge, another mortar "ammo" carrier, who has a long scholarship record at Noble and Greenough, Duke University, and Suffolk Law, and who worked for the American Airlines with Kay Fortune.

Capt. Irving Chefnas, Roxbury — Pfc. Ricco E. Asci, Brockton

And Pvt. Joe P. Polito of 124 South st., Lowell, who played football for Tom Keady, was a B. & M. trackman, and remembers the social hours at Ed Scott's Tobacco Shop. And Pfc. Frank J. Leone of 106 Cross st., Quincy, a rifleman, who used to caddy at Stoney Brae, swim in the quarry holes, and had an uncle, Tony, who used to wrestle in the Quincy Arena. And Pfc. Dick L. Kane of 41 Harriet st., Brighton, a rifleman who is company tailor now, and had the curious hobby of betting the greyhounds at Wonderland (once to hit the daily double for $600 by playing his street number 4 & 1 in the year of 1941) and played soccer for the Brighton Celtics.

And Sergt. Richard J. Gibbons of 84 Clark st., Clinton, chief of a cannon section, who tended bar for Joe Fontana's Hamilton sq. "Ringside." And 2nd-Lieut. Albert V. Digiune (Di-june) of Camp Chanrudema, Winchendon, commander of a heavy weapons platoon, and a former cost accountant for Robbins Co. of Attleboro, and a counselor for Charles and Mrs. F. E. Russell's tutoring camp.

And 2nd Lieut. Martin F. Shaughnessy of 24 Pearson ave., Somerville, Boston College '38, of which Jack Gately was class president, and an ex-clerk in the Somerville city treasurer's office.

And 1st Lieut. Donald E. Ross of 54 Townsend ave., Braintree, who taught English at the Monatquet Jr. High and is educational officer of the regiment. And Capt. Irving Chefnas of 30 Walnut st., Roxbury, the battalion surgeon who worked at a first aid dressing station (censored). And lastly, Pfc. Ricco E. Asci of 10 Beaver st., Brockton, an ammo carrier and ex-mechanic for Everett Owen's garage.

Once the early reserve was melted, the soldiers talked freely, and by their questions showed their sense of remoteness from home, as though they are living on a different planet. They can't understand, and have a smouldering resentment toward war-labor strikes. Is the motor traffic just as thick on the streets as ever? Are Boston streets crowded? Do they light the city at night? Such things.

And they couldn't understand the impression being published by some American news magazines that there is "friction" between the AEF and the British civilians, because hardly a man among them has not been repeatedly invited to English homes, or who has not helped give mass parties at the barracks. And let the writer add his emphatic testimony. Outside of London, which is a furlough area, and so pretty polyglot, the writer has not seen a tipsy U. S. soldier at any time, nor any act of hooliganism, nor any loud boastfulness.

I don't say it hasn't happened, but not in the towns of the broad training areas where I have toured widely. The men I have seen, many of them veterans (censored) are disciplined soldiers who salute their officers smartly, are neat and courteous. For obvious reasons, they have their pride, have been through a tough training (censored) and are well acquainted with the stiff scale of martial penalties. The men are not being babied. Woe to the U. S. soldier in this war who steps beyond reasonable bounds. His shrift is short!

BARBARITY STEELS HATE OF FILIPINOS

By COL. CARLOS P. ROMULO

(Written Exclusively for International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (INS)—Filipino soldiers of the 46th Division found her halfburied in a shallow grave, near a Japanese foxhole, during those terrible days of fighting in Bataan. She had been a pretty girl, and well brought up. Her finger nails were trimmed and polished.

Her name was embroidered on her handkerchief — Erlinda. Her family name had been lost—somewhere in transit—from the peaceful town she had been born and reared and courted, to that last bloody piece of earth.

She had been ravished repeatedly by Japanese soldiers, and then bayonetted. In the half-covered ditch where they found her, she was on her knees—the rigor of death had caught the final piteous gesture with which she must have pleaded for mercy.

When the Filipino patrol returned and told the story of Erlinda an overpowering wave of anger and hate swept the men at the front. They pleaded for an offensive; they volunteered for daring patrols; they wanted to avenge the unknown girl.

And yet, Erlinda had been lucky. Death had rescued her soul and covered her ravaged body. Others had not been so fortunate. They had been assaulted by Japanese soldiers before the faces of their fathers, brothers, husbands.

For the Japanese soldier, when left to himself in a conquered town, is unable to discipline his lowest instincts. He practices to the full his national philosophy that woman is but an instrument of pleasure.

Resistance continues everywhere in the Philippines. Japanese terrorism has intensified rather than lessened Filipino hate. The Filipinos remember the lives that must be avenged; they remember the shame that must be washed away in blood; they remember Erlinda!

There was the case of a Filipino girl who refused the attention of a Japanese officer. She was kidnaped, taken to a suburb of Manila, and because she resisted on the way, she was stabbed to death. There was the case of five waitresses who were forcibly undressed by drunken Japanese soldiers and made to go out in the street naked.

An entire family in the town of Rosario, Cavite, was tortured by a squad of Japanese soldiers when the two young ladies of the house laughed at them. The girls' father and mother were struck with guns and while they were unconscious the girls were attacked. The 17-year-old brother who came running from the town market to help his sisters was shot, and an old neighbor who tried to pick up the dead boy's body was also shot.

"In War and Peace"

THE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE has not only come out squarely for internationalism, but, for the first time in the history of the country, a national committee of a major party has brought foreign governments into a Presidential election.

In the committee's recent plea to Mr. Roosevelt to spend sixteen (or twenty or twenty-four) years in the White House, this paragraph occurs:

"We, assembled here, realizing his world leadership and knowing that our Allies are praying with us for the continuation of his services both in war and peace, do now earnestly solicit him to continue as the great world humanitarian leader."

The phrase "world leadership" officially internationalizes the Presidency and the New Deal Party.

And the first concrete shadow on the sovereignty of the United States as an independent and self-determining nation is seen in the phrase, "knowing that our Allies are praying with us for the continuation of his (President Roosevelt's) services both in war and PEACE."

This clearly means that President Roosevelt should, in the opinion of what must now be called the Democratic International Committee, remain President for at least sixteen years, because Russia, England, China, Holland and a dozen other nations want him.

But it is hardly a compliment to the American people.

If Downing Street and the Kremlin are "praying" for President Roosevelt to rush in where Washington and Jefferson feared to tread—that is, as an indispensable sixteen-year incumbent of the office of chief magistrate of the nation—then we may as well do away with the expensive luxury of an election next fall and have Mr. Roosevelt "mandated" by Messrs. Churchill, Stalin and Chiang-Kai-shek to remain as President and "world leader" for the rest of his life.

Thus we see where the doctrine of internationalism, as proclaimed by Messrs. Wallace, Willkie, Ickes and Hopkins, is leading us.

It is leading us straight to an International President.

It is leading us straight to the abdication of the United States as master of its own fate and captain of its own soul.

Indeed, the intimation is plain in the extraordinary paragraph from the resolution of the Democratic International Committee quoted above that hereafter we shall consult the great major powers of the world before we even select candidates for President in our party conventions.

THIS follows precisely the international line of the Communist Party of America, which has always consulted the Kremlin before nominating Federal and State candidates.

The Democratic International Committee has thus laid down the master issue for next fall.

It is Internationalism versus Americanism.

It is the choice of a man for President without regard to the wishes of any other power on earth or the continuation in office of a man who has invoked the un-American doctrine of indispensability and who has been made to believe that our allies are "praying" for the "continuation of his services"—indefinitely.

Our allies, with all due admiration for the tremendous work they are doing in helping to defeat our two common enemies—Hitler and Tojo—do not really care a snap of their fingers what becomes of our form of government, our Constitution or our two-party political system, which has been the cornerstone of our civil strength.

They, with the help of 13,000,000 jobholders in this country, in conjunction with the Democratic International Committee, seek, naturally, only their own aggrandizement after this war.

And that aggrandizement is dependent almost entirely on internationalizing this country—our President, our Congress and our institutions.

As our allies are using the word "praying," according to the Democratic International Committee, let all good Washington-Jefferson-Lincoln Americans also pray.

Let us pray that we shall, next November, demolish the doctrine of the indispensable man and the new doctrine that hereafter we must consult Europe and Asia on whom we may have as President.

The Popular Buddies' Club

THE Boston Record-American-Advertiser, sponsors of the Buddies' Club on Boston Common, and their many thousand readers, whose contributions built this splendid wartime institution, find pride and pleasure in the statement of Maj.-Gen. Sherman Miles, commanding general of the First Corps Area, at the dedication of the new wing which makes the Buddies' Club the largest war recreation center in New England. Said General Miles:

"Tens of thousands of military men have enjoyed the hospitality of the USO in the past three years. In their name, I gratefully acknowledge your contribution and rejoice with you over the completion of this beautiful new addition.

"The Buddies' Club has solidified its position as one of the most popular service centers in the entire nation."

That is true. Recently a distinguished military man told us he had heard the Buddies' Club highly praised by service men in five different battle zones.

On the Side . . . . . By E. V. Durling

Fair is my love, for April is in her face,
Her lovely bosom September claims his part,
And lordly July in her eyes takes place,
But cold December dwelleth in her heart.
—ROBERT GREENE.

ABOVE was written in the 16th century. The theme of unrequited love seems to dominate the poems written by men of that period. Evidently the ladies of that day practiced the "hard to get" technique more than those of the present. Right now it seems the men are following this system. In any event 99 per cent of the unrequited love poems are currently written by women . . . About nine months ago I stated Gen. Montgomery of the British Eighth Army was not an Irishman, as had often been claimed, but was born in London within the sound of the Bow Bells and was therefore a Cockney. Immediately clients by the hundreds began demanding stogies and chocolate bars. They sent me clippings galore and excerpts from biographies written by supposedly well-informed men, which stated Montgomery was born in Ireland. But I stuck to my story. Now, in answer to a cable by a New York newspaper, Gen. Montgomery states: "I was born at St. Marks Vicarage, Kennington Oval, London, England." So, ladies and gentlemen, those of you who claimed the General was born in Ireland please forward stogies.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—Have any feminine members of our armed forces been wounded in action or decorated for bravery? A—Lieut. Madonna Nolan and her sister, Lieut. Agnes Nolan of Oakland, Ill., both Army nurses, were wounded in action near Salerno, Italy, and have been awarded the Military Order of the Purple Heart. Q—What is a good toast for a Navy man and his bride? A—How about:
Here's to the wind that blows,
The ship that goes,
And the lass that loves a sailor!

PROTEST: "You seem to have quite a few readers who delight in referring to themselves as cute little tricks," writes a tall girl of Chicago. "Tell those shrimps to stop buying stockings that are intended for tall, stately and statuesque women. Let them buy hose that are especially made for undersized females. Tall girls have enough trouble as it is getting things to fit them without having undersized women buy up the aforementioned stockings just because they think they get more for their money."

PASSING BY: Ivie Anderson, Sepia songstress. She's off to Mexico City to entertain at one of that town's elaborate night spots. I suppose she will include "Stormy Weather" in her repertoire . . . Steve Hannagan, first man to refer to a press agent as "a counsel of public relations." Smart idea. Press agents were getting $75 a week. "Counsels of public relations" now get from $250 to $1000 a week! Mr. Hannagan is an ardent admirer of Ann Sheridan. For Christmas he gave Miss Sheridan an electric train with 12 cars and 100 yards of track. I hope Annie invites me out to play with her when I go to California . . . Jack Westrope, veteran jockey, said to be the proudest papa on his block. His nickname for his daughter Pamela is "Punkins."

SIDELIGHTS: Eddie Leonard, when soft shoe dancing, sang a ditty titled "Ida, Ida, Sweet as Apple Cider." Now there is a current ditty titled "Sippin' Cider with My Ida." How about somebody writing a song about Ida that says nothing about cider? Possibly one titled "Ida, Come Ride In My Glider." Or "Ida, Ida, I Hate to Say It but You're Getting Wider" . . . Now the customers are telling me what they had to eat. That's fine, but remember only one meal to a customer. That is, one at a time, so I can study what you ate and see if it is good for you.—J. Fred Coots says: "We had kidney stew for supper tonight. Tasted good as my wife cooks it just like my mother did—adding a touch of thyme to it."

HIS PROBLEM: "I am employed in a war plant where I work with women. I have to help them in their work. They are driving me crazy," writes a New Jersey subscriber. "I am 6 feet 2 inches tall, weigh 185 pounds, and though in my 50's in fine physical condition. Work never affected me before, but since I have had to work with females I am so tired at the end of the day I can hardly stand up. My patience is about exhausted. Could your Horses & Women Department help me? How can you get along with women? How can you treat them so they will like you and respect you? How can you please them without being their slaves? P. S.—I am not kidding."

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: Now I have a reader named Bonnie A snappy name! Remember Bonnie Maginn, the actress? I don't, never saw her. But her name always appealed to me . . . The throaty voiced band canaries and radio larks seem very fond of the ditty, "Speak Low, When You Speak Love." That title is from Shakespeare. There are a lot more of good song titles and ideas where that came from . . . Chiang Kai-shek says the Japs will be defeated in 1945. President Roosevelt says by 1946. But the slogan of the men in the armed forces in the Pacific is "The Golden Gate by 1948." . . . For the first time in years I saw a kid flying a kite today. But still haven't seen any kids playing leap frog lately. I would teach the kids around our way the game, but if I tried to do any leaping of that type now I might break my neck.

ASIDES: Lord Beaverbrook's London Daily Express is 25 years old and now has a circulation of 1,868,000. After a good start in its early days, the Express was losing circulation rapidly when suddenly its horse racing selector began to click in a big way. Circulation then started to gain and it has been gaining ever since . . . The name of a well-known resident of London, Eng., was Victor Bowing-Hansbury. He was born Victor Bowing, but when he married a widow named Hansbury he took her name, too. That's an idea for you if you want a hyphenated name. How would your wife's maiden name sound and look in print if combined with yours? My name would be E. V. Durling-Bolsen. Snappy, what?

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

NEW YORK, Feb. 4—Deanna Durbin has just signed a new six-year contract with Universal which should end, but definitely, those Hollywood buzzings that Deanna would follow Joe Pasternak to M-G-M.

The new long-term deal was signed and sealed today and comes on the heels of the expiration of her original seven-year contract.

I'm glad Deanna remains on her old home lot. In the long run Universal has done very well by her. It isn't the easiest thing in the world successfully to bring along a child star to grown-up roles. During the transition period one or two of her 13 pictures —"The Amazing Mrs. Halliday," for instance—weren't so hot. But the batting average has been high and "Christmas Holiday" and "Caroline" will give Deanna her best acting opportunities to date.

DENNIS MORGAN, who is on suspension at Warners, may be surprised to learn that the studio isn't taking the feud too seriously. At least, they are announcing a new picture for him, which is something unusual when an actor and a studio are a-warring. The movie being heralded for Dennis is inspired by the box office success of "The Desert Song," with Morgan once again teamed with Irene Manning in an original operetta titled "Henrietta, the Eighth." In fact the same producer and director—Robert Buckner and Robert Florey—will be at the helm. With preparations this far along it doesn't look as if the Morgan-Warner fracas will last very long.

NOW THAT the smart Mons. Mike Todd has his hands on Frances Parkingson Keyes' best-selling "Crescent Carnival" for a stage show, I'll bet the selling price for the movie rights jumps sky high. Surprising that this book, which was on the best-seller lists for eight months, wasn't grabbed for a movie first, for this colorful romance of old New Orleans has all the makings. Now it's Mike's baby and he has signed Michael Stone, authoress of "And Tomorrow" and "Neither Sun Nor Storm," to adapt the novel into a play.

"THE STORM," George Stewart's best seller, isn't for Alan Ladd after all. When Para paid $40,000 for the yarn it was announced for Ladd, but a sudden switch in plans puts it in the hands of Bill Pine and Bill Thomas to produce and they will use their own star, Robert Lowery. I've always thought "The Storm" would make an exceptional movie. It's the story of a little squall that starts innocently enough in the Pacific and which has startling effect on the lives of oddly related people when it finally strikes as a terrific storm.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: After changing the title "I Married a Soldier" to "In the Meantime, Darling," 20th Century-Fox is now referring to the Otto Preminger movie as—what next? If ever a picture was hexed it's this one. First, the leading lady, Jean Craine, is badly bitten by a dog around the face and neck. Then one of the two male leads, Stanley Prager, is taken ill with the flu, which develops into pleurisy, and has been in the hospital three weeks. Now comes the final blow —the other hero, Frank Latimer, has been ordered to report to the Army Feb. 14.

FELIX YOUNG, well-known Hollywood restaurateur and former RKO producer, steps out in a new role. He has leased the old Belasco Theater for his "Felix Young's 8:40 Revue," which starts the first week of April. The list of writers on the show sounds like "Who's Who" in Hollywood, with all Felix' tunesmith and sketchscribbling pals contributing a number. It was Felix who brought Lena Horne to the Coast and introduced her at the little Troc when he was managing it. He'll use top names as well as some new discoveries he hopes will turn out as well as Lena in the new revue.

WHEN THE old rockin' chair gets me finally I am going to remember my recent Chicago visit. One of the highlights will be the luncheon given at Marshall Fields and the autographing party arranged by Mrs. Rose Hardaugh, who has been in the store's book department for 33 years. Gathered around the table were old and new friends—Colleen Moore, Mrs. Janet Street, June Collyer and Stu Erwin, Mrs. Skeets Gallagher, Mrs. Walter Howey, Sally Eilers, Howie Mayer, Nate Gross, Fanny Butcher, Irving Kupcinet and Ray Schaeffer. Then I signed 1100 copies of "The Gay Illiterate"—and does my arm know it!

A LINE OR TWO: Ashton Stevens, distinguished dramatic critic of the Chicago Herald-American, and his pretty wife were guests at a dinner Ernie Byfield and Frank Behring had in the pump room. Ashton is as witty as he was when I first met him 25 years ago . . . Walter Howey, head of the Herald-American and famed newspaper editor, gave out with some of his best stories. One was about Maj. Charles MacArthur, playwright husband of Helen Hayes. Then Ernie produced a letter from the inimitable Charlie written from the Walter Reed Military Hospital. "I'm not really sick," wrote Charlie, "I am here because of my political beliefs." We talked of the Eastland disaster which I, as a girl reporter, had covered. The boat turned over and 2000 people drowned. Since the war the old boat has been restored and is now the Wilmette, a Navy training ship.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Straight from Greer Garson comes the denial of those rumors that she is expecting the stork. "Wish it were true," said Greer. Captain Clark Gable is escorting Betty Hutton to the Eddie Mannix party; Merle Oberon and Columbia aren't seeing eye to eye about her wardrobe in the "Chopin" picture; Ermadean Walters welcomed a six-pound baby boy, who was promptly named Robert Douglas Cutting, Jr., in honor of his father overseas; the Johny Weissmullers may not be at the reconciliation stage, but they are holding long confabs over the telephone almost daily; Irving Fein, formerly with Columbia publicity, goes with Jules Levey as his publicity head; Lana Turner, Steve Crane, Frank Sinatra and Marilyn Maxwell in a party at the Palladium; Loretta Young says she has talked long distance to her sister Sally, (Mrs. Norman Foster) in Mexico City—and neither girl can understand how those stories of Sally's serious illness started. Says she's feeling fine; Leatrice Joy Gilbert has received the necessary "release" from her soldier husband with permission to divorce him; Dorothy Donegan, the really marvelous pianist at the Trocadero, took time off to fly to San Francisco to marry Lieut. Bill Couch before he sailed away; Dave Rose, Para London executive, and his wife heading back to England—their 18th crossing.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Thursday — Yesterday afternoon I had a talk with Mrs. William Walrath of "The Cradle Society" in Evanston, Ill. Many people have obtained babies for adoption through this society, and Mrs. Walrath has done a great deal to improve our knowledge of the scientific care of children.

She is now very much interested in a new type of maternity hospital which will protect both mother and baby from infection during the first 10 days after birth. She showed me the plan yesterday. It seems probable that hospitals of this kind would eliminate the dangers which threaten many babies placed in the usual hospital nursery, as well as hazards to the mother from infection brought in from the outside.

THE WIVES OF THE CABINET officers, Miss Perkins and I were hosts at tea to the wives of the members of the House of Representatives yesterday. In the evening we had a strictly family party as some of the grandchildren are leaving today, and we all felt that they should have our main attention on their last evening.

The Atlantic Monthly is offering a thousand-dollar prize for the best article on "Freedom of the Press in the United States."

They suggest that articles should not be less than 4500 words or more than 7000, and they must be received at the Atlantic Monthly's office not later than May 3, 1944.

This contest seems to me of great importance, for many of us have never really formulated what we mean by freedom of the press. Freedom may be used as a name to cover up a very real control, and I have thought for a long time that the clarification of what constitutes freedom of the press would be valuable.

RIDE UP ONE FLIGHT AND SAVE!

A Believe It or Not for American Women By Ripley

NEARLY every woman knows that used cooking fats are wanted to make gunpowder. But did you know that this same precious ingredient of war can also ease the pain of a wounded American?

On the beach at Salerno Ray's boy with both legs broken. He had been firing his anti-tank gun all morning. Something hit him. He remembers nothing but pain. The medical corpsman said, "Cut his sleeve there." And into the boy's veins went a blessed opiate.

That drug was made with glycerine. And glycerine is made from used cooking fats.

Before you throw away even a drop of used cooking fat, remember, it's so urgently needed that the government has authorized your meat dealer to give you, for every pound of fat you turn in, 4¢ and two free meat ration points. No fat is too black. No amount is too small. Save it in a can, not in glass. Any kind of tin will do. Rush it to your meat dealer! Start doing it today, won't you?

Weds Tuesday

By BETTY ALDEN

LIEUT. ROBERT E. ISAACSON, USA, is coming from his post at Ft. Custer, Mich., Sunday to claim a pretty Boston post-deb as his Valentine. She is Moira Mahony, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harrison Mahony of 170 Beacon st., and their wedding is set for Tuesday afternoon.

Moira will make an appealing Valentine bride for she is a lovely light brunette with big brown eyes. All her end of the wedding preparations are completed. She has already been photographed in her beautiful bridal finery, applied for the wedding license, and tomorrow she fetes her bridesmaids at luncheon. By the time her fiance arrives she will be free to spend her time helping him with a few last minute details.

Mary Faunce

Bob has invited Moira's brothers and several of his Harvard classmates to usher but it is still uncertain which ones will manage to get here from their various military duties. It is hoped that Lieut. Edward F. Mahony of the Ski Troops and Cadet Gale Mahony will be able to come home.

Mrs. Thomas H. Mahony, Jr. (Molly Soule) a bride of two months, will be matron of honor for her sister-in-law. The bridesmaids will be Mary Faunce and Helen Underwood, Moira's sister debs in '41-'42, May Bottomley who lives across the street, and Joan Moore of Buffalo who went to Vassar with the future bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Isaacson, the groom's parents, are coming from Omaha with his 11-year-old sister, Sandra. On the wedding eve a cocktail party and dinner will be given for the families by Mr. and Mrs. William Underwood of Belmont and May Bottomley will entertain the bridal party at her mother's Beacon st. home.

Lieut. Isaacson, an officer in the Corps of Military Police, will take his bride to Battle Creek, Mich., to make their home while he is stationed there. He is a Harvard graduate.

SOME FACTS ABOUT ANTHRACITE

There is a shortage of hard coal at this time. The Anthracite industry is profoundly sorry to say so but there can be no blinking this regrettable fact.

Wartime conditions beyond any one's control have produced a situation which the industry has been earnestly struggling to avert. All our energies are being bent now to improve the picture—and our chances of success depend to a great extent on every user's help.

Here's the way things are and here's how you can help:

QUESTION: How much Anthracite will consumers receive this winter?

ANSWER: The Government has limited the domestic consumer to no more than seven-eighths of the amount he burned last year.

QUESTION: Does this mean that in the remainder of this heating season I can use seven-eighths as much as I used in the comparable period last year?

ANSWER: Regretfully, we must say that it does not. The Government's order applies to the entire heating season. If up to now you have burned as much as you did in the same period of the year before, you have used more coal than you should have and you must reduce accordingly.

QUESTION: Can I be sure of getting seven-eighths as much this year as I used last year?

ANSWER: We are sorry to report that you can't be. Your Government, the producers and dealers are trying to see that Anthracite is shared as equitably as possible, but deliveries to individual consumers depend upon the unpredictable war demand, weather and the total supply.

QUESTION: Will I get the same size coal I burned last year?

ANSWER: You may not. If you accept the size your dealer can deliver you will help the whole coal situation while you help yourself. Any of the domestic sizes—Egg, Stove, Nut or Pea—can be used satisfactorily with only slight changes in firing methods.

QUESTION: Does this mean that Anthracite production has decreased?

ANSWER: Far from it. Production in 1943 was approximately equal to 1942—and some six million tons more than the annual output before our entrance into the war. This production pace was maintained despite strikes, floods at the mines and the loss of 11,000 miners—many to the armed forces.

QUESTION: If production has increased, why must consumers conserve?

ANSWER: Because while production has increased, the demand for Anthracite has increased even more, because of the national fuel shortage. In addition to taking care of its six million regular customers, the Anthracite industry must now take care of the additional needs of the armed forces, new houses built for war workers in defense areas and the people who have turned to Anthracite because of the consumer restrictions on other fuel. Because of colder weather this winter, consumers have been forced to use more coal, thus adding to this burden.

QUESTION: How can I conserve and get the most out of the Anthracite I have?

ANSWER: Ask your dealer for a copy of the booklet, "How to Conserve Anthracite and Improve Your Heating," or write us.

There are several other things that all Anthracite users can do:

Order your coal at least three weeks before your supply runs out and give your dealer as much time as possible to deliver it.

Make sure that some one is at home when your delivery arrives.

See that the deliveryman has easy, quick access to your coal bin.

Be willing to accept a little at a time so that all may share the available supply.

And get the conservation booklet. Study it. It will show you how to make your coal last longer.

Woodring Blasts 'Palace Guard,' Asks Party Shakeup

CHICAGO, Feb. 4 (AP)—Harry H. Woodring, former Secretary of War, proposed today that the Democrats nominate someone like Secretary of State Hull for President, and announced he would call a national convention of "loyal" party members to consolidate their forces.

In a speech replete with denunciations of what he termed "the palace guard," the one-time Kansas governor also suggested that Hull—if elected—could appoint President Roosevelt chief of the American delegation to the peace conferences.

The erstwhile Roosevelt cabinet member, conferring with associates here on plans to bring together party members opposed to a fourth term for the President, defined his views in an address prepared for delivery before the executives club.

Woodring reported he planned to summon "all loyal Democrats" to an early April meeting in a geographically convenient city, such as St. Louis. He stated there was an increasing demand for a gathering "to re-examine the state of our party" among millions of Democrats" who were out of sympathy with the "palace guard" and who preferred the 1932 type of leadership exemplified by James A. Farley, former national chairman.

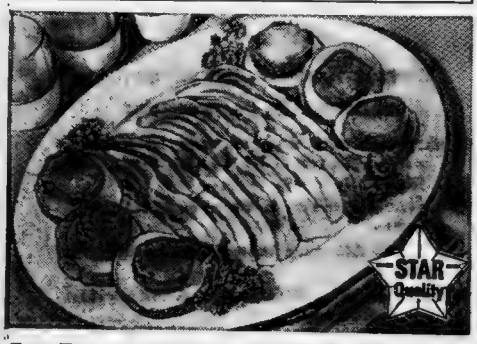
Armour Ideas Make the Most of Meat



Star Bacon with Sweet Potatoes and Apples

Here's a point-easy dinner that's mighty easy to prepare. Everything you need for it is easy to get—your market is sure to have these foods on hand. And what a wonderful combination of fine flavors—bacon, sweet potatoes and apples! All favorites!

Ration-wise, this meal is a real bargain—takes so few meat points per person! It takes just a few slices of Armour's Star Bacon to provide the satisfaction of a big meat meal—because Star Bacon is richly flavorful—sugar-cured in its own juices, then slow-smoked over fragrant hickory and hardwood fires!

Cook 2 unpeeled, medium sized sweet potatoes in boiling water until tender—then peel and slice in thick crosswise slices. Core 2 tart apples and slice in half inch slices. Place ½ lb. of sliced Star Bacon in cold frying pan. Fry slowly over low heat for 10 to 12 minutes, turning frequently and pouring off fat as it accumulates. When crisp but not brittle the bacon is done. Using some of the bacon drippings, fry the apples and slices of sweet potatoes. Serve as illustrated. Serves 4.

WARNS OF LAG IN BOND SALES

Officials of the War Finance Committee expressed concern today at the lag in war bond sales to individuals.

Only $84,100,000—or 32.6 per cent of the State's quota of $258,000,000—has been purchased up through yesterday.

If the State is to make its quota, said a committee spokesman, sales will have to show a remarkable spurt in the final days of the campaign, which ends Feb. 15.

Meanwhile, the Invasion Show is opening tomorrow at the First Corps Cadets Armory, here to help spur purchases by individuals to the $10,000,000 a day average needed to put the drive over the top.

At Providence, the Rhode Island committee announced that the nation's smallest state already has exceeded its Fourth War Loan goal of $80,000,000.

Military equipment of all types—from a barrage balloon to a walkie-talkie outfit — was moved into the First Corps Cadet Armory today for the exhibit to be held tomorrow, Sunday and Monday, sponsored by the Security Dealers of Massachusetts. Admission is by purchase of a 25 cent war stamp at the door. All the armed services are co-operating in the show.

Louis G. Berube Last Rites Monday

Funeral of Louis G. Berube, father of Lieut. Thomas J. Berube, Army fighter pilot and former Boston American reporter, will be held Monday from his home in Adams st., South Tewksbury. A solemn high mass of requiem will be celebrated in St. William's Church at 10 a. m.

He was a member of the Tewksbury street commission, a veteran of World War I and a member of the American Legion.

Besides Lieut. Berube, at present in Europe, he leaves his wife, Mary J., three other sons and a daughter.

FIELDS BAND HIT AT BOSTON

Shep Fields and his orchestra, famed for their "rippling rhythm," opened in an excellent vaudeville bill at the Keith-Boston yesterday, sharing honors with Helen Forrest, the girl who was Harry James' vocalist and is credited with having made more recordings than any other performer in show business.

Both the orchestra and Miss Forrest more than live up to the expectations of those in the audience who have heard them often over the air-waves. This reporter, who long since got a bit tired of the gurgling brook effect in the Fields orchestra, was surprised to find them far more versatile than they used to sound, and very pleasing to the ear.

Meredith Blake, vocalist with the band, scored with an arrangement of "The Lost Chord," with the orchestra giving a remarkable imitation of an organ.

Competing for headline honors also are Borrah Minnevich's Harmonica Rascals, who have some fresh comedy as well as corny music to offer. The audience wanted more of them.

Miss Forrest is a delight to hear. She sings with the utmost ease and polish such familiar numbers as "Besame Mucho," "I Don't Want to Walk Without You, Baby," and "No Love, No Nuttin' "

The bill at the Boston also gives Dixie Dunbar, the petite dancing star of stage and screen.

On the screen is "The Heat's On," with Mae West, Billy Gaxton and Victor Moore.

IT'S ROSALIND AT HER BEST

By PEGGY DOYLE

Rosalind Russell, at her brittle best, is presently careering all over Loew's State and Orpheum screens in an implausible, elegantly upholstered offering, "What A Woman!"

Miss Russell beautifully lives up to the picture's title, having had a great deal of practice in this department. She enacts what is known in Hollywood as a ten-per-center, an agent and star-maker to you. She has just sold the movie rights to the sensational best-seller, "The Whirlwind," and has set in motion a contest to find an actor to play the lead.

Sleuthing around in that incredibly knowing way of her's, this handsome career-woman strips the author of his nom de plume, discovers him to be tall, blonde and the answer to her professional man-hunt. An interchange of pleasantries reveals him, a professor at a small-town college, to be stuffy and embalmed in Elizabethan literature.

Also, he is horrified at the suggestion that he go into pictures but you know our square-jawed Rosalind. In the next sequence he has exchanged his professorship for a screen test, which proves he ought to trot right back to his classroom.

But Brian Aherne, an ace magazine writer who is "profiling" her, has other ideas, chiefly concerned with the 10 per center's other 90 per cent, and promotes the blonde hunk of handsomeness into a strictly one-sided love affair.

The inevitable happens, Brian and Roz discover each other and it's a clinch at the finish. Miss Russell, as has been indicated, romps through this one with her accustomed ease, looking handbox fresh throughout, which should be a lesson to other distaff careerists.

Mr. Aherne, another calm, cool and collected performer, is not so happily cast, though he does the best he can. Willard Parker, a six-foot-four fugitive from the Broadway stage, looks too good to be true.

Dot Lamour Romps, Sings In Met's Musical Western

By MARY X. SULLIVAN

Even if you haven't a secret passion for westerns, you'll enjoy "Ridin' High," in which Dorothy Lamour, Dick Powell and Cass Daley . . . not to forget Victor Moore . . . opened yesterday at the Metropolitan.

This merry Technicolor musical is a de luxe western, with all the lovely thrills of the old horse operas and glamour besides. Not only that, but it has several good songs, and Powell was never in better voice.

The scene is set in Arizona, where a former burlesque queen arrives to join her father, who thinks he has struck silver on his land. The girl is Miss Lamour, sans sarong for a happy change.

On the same train is Dick Powell, a mining engineer who has been selling stock in the same mine, and also riding West is Victor Moore, a friendly counterfeiter.

When Dotty learns that the silver is non-existent, she takes a job on a dude ranch run by Cass Daley, and thereby gets a chance to sing, wearing scanty but becoming costumes. It also provides the opportunity to bring in singing and dancing showgirls.

Meanwhile, kindly Victor Moore tries to patch up the broken romance of Lamour and Powell by contributing some of his homemade cash to the failing mine project, which brings Gil Lamb, a daffy sheriff, into the picture.

This film has no social significance whatever, but it has plenty of laughs, and it winds up with Dick Powell rescuing the heroine in true William S. Hart fashion.

The companion film is "Find the Blackmailer," with Faye Emerson and Jerome Cowan.

THIS IS THE YEAR OF DECISION!

LET'S ALL MEET IT TOGETHER!

THE war none of us wanted is the war all of us have got to win—and we're being given our chance this year to make 1944 the year that counts, the year of decision.

With the greatest military strength the world has ever seen in our possession, we are boring in for the knock-out blow. But that blow needs a lot of punch behind it if we are to "count out" the German enemy this year. That's where you come in. For you are being asked this month to play your part in the 1944 march to victory by buying the Bonds that will help to make this the year to be proud of. And it's not only your duty but your privilege, for with every Bond you buy you'll be buying your share of the fruits of victory as well.

For the money you invest now will be yours to spend later for things you have always wanted.

Your duty as an American is to buy at least one extra $100 Bond. But that is just the rock-bottom figure. Thousands of Americans are going to have to invest much more than that during this 4th War Loan drive to make certain that this will be the year that marks the end of the Nazi power.

During this drive keep on buying your regular quota of Bonds where you work, and be sure you buy your extra Bonds there too. Every plant, every office, every community will have its quota—you must see that that quota where you work or live is reached.

This Drive is your Drive—your chance to prove that you are still backing the attack. Show your confidence that this is the year that will really hurt the enemies of your country on land, in the air and on the seas.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, FRIDAY, FEB. 4, 1944

FASHION'S FINGER points to the PEPLUM . . . as the most interesting variation of the straight silhouette . . . heralded for spring. This short black crepe and lace gown . . . with the diagonal peplum wired and gathered in deep folds over the right hip . . . is perfect for late afternoon or dinner. The crepe slants up to the left shoulder . . . and is fastened with a jeweled clip. Note that lace covers the entire right shoulder . . . in fetching revelation. RKO Actress Elaine Shepard models—R. Real Milk in This Cleansing Cream

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

AGE CANNOT WITHER nor custom stale . . . for all of us are young, lively girls at heart . . . who like to look spic and span and alive . . . milk-clean, as your grannie used to say . . . with her lovely peaches and cream complexion and ermine-like hair.

And, you can be just that . . . milk-clean! For years women who have lived in hard water areas have used milk to help keep the skin clean and soft . . . used it instead of the harsh irritating water. Not to mention all the great beauties who BATHED in milk.

Here is a cleansing milk cream which contains REAL MILK . . . yes, 80 per cent fresh, dairy milk, pasteurized, so that it looks like thick, rich country cream . . . the kind you put on fresh strawberries . . . and it will get your skin cleaner than ever before.

Because this cleansing milk cream contains pure vegetable oils . . . as well as gentle softening milk . . . it not only washes but creams your face . . . and it saves time and many motions. It's quick. All you have to do is cover your face with this cream, then wash it off with water and your own washcloth.

It washes away every bit of dirt, soot, all flakes of skin, stale secretions and makeup. We are all busy women these days and we are mighty interested in saving time. And, because we must use every minute for war work . . . for our home . . . or for our jobs . . . this cleansing milk cream is a quick, efficient way to care for your skin. And it all comes in one jar.

LEAVES SKIN WITH FRESH, CLEAR SPARKLE

Milk . . . as you know . . . contains all sorts of minerals, including calcium and phosphorous, also albumin and lactose, and it is rich in butterfat. These natural elements are all in milk . . . and milk combined with vegetable oils . . . makes a perfect formula that cleans, smooths and softens the skin. One of the delightful things about milk as a cosmetic is that it is non-greasy. And, you need leave this preparation on your skin for but a few seconds.

It is such a light, fresh, pure product . . . not at all heavy or waxy or thick . . . that is just right for the young, sensitive skin, too. This cleansing milk cream is a new and delightfully different skin cleanser . . . different than anything you might have used. It is a water-soluble cream which leaves the skin so wonderfully clean and soft . . . with a fresh, clear sparkle.

This cream is the product of a cosmetic house which was the first ever to make cosmetics with FRESH MILK. Give your skin a drink of it.

For the name of this "different," pasteurized milk cleansing cream, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

MILK BATHS were a beauty must for the noted beauties . . . but now you can give your face a thorough, different kind of cleansing . . . with a pasteurized milk cream . . . as yummy as the thick, rich country cream you put on fresh strawberries. Collette Lyons poses.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX—I have been married five years and have a 4-year-old daughter. I'm not living with my husband because he is too old for me. I am 25.

I go to dances and have a wonderful time. Meet young men who are nearer my age and they like to dance, too. I never did love my husband but married him because he was well-fixed.

Before I met my husband I was going with a boy for years, and he promised to marry me but never did and I gave him up. He's in the Army now and we correspond. He says he's going to marry me when he returns; do you think he'll keep his promise this time? A. R.

It seems to me that dancing is a pretty unstable rock on which to found a marriage. In regard to the "other man," he let you down once; why do you think he wouldn't do the same thing a second time? Your letter impressed me that you lack a sense of responsibility. And how do you feel about this environment for your little girl?

Softens Straight Lines

By BETTINA BEDWELL

Ways to soften up the straight and narrow line of current dress styles keep on being invented by our good designers. Among these is the use of grillwork, done in narrow pipings of the dress material, and used to make yokes and bands and soft edges on narrow line dresses.

One such is sketched. This dress has a very deep yoke and ruffles over the arms and down the neckline, which are done in piping worked to look like the grillwork of the ancient Greeks. The dinner dress is from Eta of Ren-Eta and is part of her Greek revival styles.

The material is black crepe, and no dress could be narrower than this one below the filmy grillwork top.

TIME AND FUEL-SAVERS

Oven Meals Popular

By MARTHA LEE

OVEN MEALS are very popular at this time of year when all hot foods are desirable. They can be quite substantial, too, and are wonderful time and fuel-savers. Foods that require the same cooking temperature and about the same cooking time should be chosen so that all the dishes will come out of the oven together.

A meat loaf is a splendid choice for an oven meal. We have arranged a menu below which is quite simple to prepare. A 350 deg. F. oven is used. The potatos and squash are put in first with the meat loaf; 5 minutes later the gingerbread goes in; 5 mins. before the whole dinner comes out, the rolls are put in the oven to heat.

OVEN DINNER

Baked Meat Loaf with
Tomato Catsup Sauce
Baked Winter Squash
Baked Potatoes
Green Salad Bowl
Hot Rolls Butter or Margarine
Hot Gingerbread with Apple
Butter and Cream Cheese Filling
Tea

VEGETABLE MEAT LOAF

1 lb. hamburger ¾ cup milk
½ cup dry bread crumbs
1 egg 1¼ tsp. salt
⅛ cup chopped green pepper
⅛ cup chopped onion
¾ cup grated raw carrot
1-3 cup tomato ketchup

Combine bread crumbs, milk and egg which have been beaten lightly together, and seasonings. Add green pepper, onion, carrots and hamburger and mix well. Place in greased loaf pan or ring mold and bake 50 minutes in 350 deg. F. oven. Makes 6 servings.

TOMATO KETCHUP SAUCE

Add 4 tablespoons of hot water to 2-3 cup of tomato ketchup and stir. Serve over hot meat loaf.

BAKED WINTER SQUASH

Wash and cut squash in pieces for serving. Remove seeds and stringy portions. Place in shallow pan, spread with softened butter or margarine and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake in moderately hot oven (350 deg. F.) Allow about ½ pound squash per serving.

HOT WATER GINGERBREAD

½ cup shortening
¼ cup granulated sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup molasses
2½ cups sifted cake flour
1½ tsp. baking soda
½ tsp. powdered cloves
1 tsp. cinnamon 1 tsp. ginger
½ tsp. salt 1 cup hot water

Work the shortening with a spoon until fluffy and creamy, then add the sugar gradually, while continuing to work with a spoon until light. Add the beaten egg and the molasses. Then add the sifted dry ingredients and the hot water alternately in thirds, beating well with a spoon after each addition. Bake in greased and floured cake pan about 9x9x2 in a moderate oven of 350 deg. F. for 45 minutes.

Broadway

NEW YORK, Feb. 4—Dolly is the ingenue in a play.

Although unmarried herself, she doesn't seem to be able to get herself emotionally interested in single men, and most of her romances have been complicated by the fact that the gentlemen in question were married.

Dolly's friends reasoned that she probably enjoyed the intrigue involved in snatching forbidden fruit, and let it go at that.

Until Dolly met Dave. Dave is a member of the company of Dolly's current show. He's married, of course (the gag around the cast is that she wouldn't have looked at him if he hadn't been), and during the long weeks of rehearsal and the tryouts the other actors in the play became extremely fond of his wife. Her consideration for everyone from the minor players to the stars and her devotion to her husband made her a genuine favorite.

But during the last week of rehearsal the actors became aware of something that worried them!

Dolly was out for Dave. They met after the rehearsal so he could give her "tips on acting," and before long it was pretty evident that he was falling hard.

IN SUCH CASES, there's a "hands-off" policy among show people, who figure that sort of thing is your own private affair. But this time the rule was broken, because nobody wanted to see Mrs. Dave hurt.

The cast formed an anti-ingenue campaign, and when dozens of people work hard at making a fool out of a chosen victim, the results are wonderful to behold. Dolly was constantly irritated, balked, annoyed, teased and ruffled—sometimes not so subtly. The comedians in the show have conspired to make some of the situations really hilarious. And their capers were not in vain.

Before the play even opened, Dave had grown bored with Dolly, and the threat of romance was over. Mrs. Dave never knew, and her happiness is untouched by suspicion. Dolly—believe it or not—is now dating a boy her own age who HASN'T GOT A WIFE!

But you can't print that! The cast is so grateful to Mrs. Dave for the many nice things she's done for them—they don't want her to know why she should be grateful to them.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 4—Practically every picture company is bidding for "The Voice of the Turtle," and as a certain producer said: "The play is great. But the title—what does it mean?"

Jack Oakie

There are many titles of movies which are accepted because they are on hit pictures, but whose meaning is not clear to audiences.

Beginning with The Voice of the Turtle." This title comes from the Bible in the Song of Songs: "The flowrs appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is one, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land."

Shakespeare, of course, is another excellent source for titles. The picture, "This Above All," got its name from "Hamlet": "This above all: to thine own self be true." And John Steinbeck went to the witches in "Macbeth" for "The Moon Is Down."

MANY PICTURES these days are going to patriotic songs or historical speeches for their titles. You shouldn't have to be told where the title "So Proudly We Hail" originated, and the soon to be released film, "In Our Time," is from that hopeful speech made by Prime Minister Chamberlain when he said: "On the solution of Czechoslavakia hangs the peace in our time."

Eugene O'Neill got his title for "The Long Voyage Home" from a Flemish proverb: "No man ever came home better from a long voyage."

The title of the biggest grossing picture in the history of the movies is probably a mystery to most of the fans who saw "Gone With the Wind." The title became, and is, nationally famous, and it didn't matter to the fans what it actually meant. The title comes from Ernest Dowson's poem "Cynara" and the lines pertaining to it read: "I have forgotten much, Cynara! Gone with the wind, flung roses riotously with the throng."

JACK OAKIE is telling the story about the jealous wife whose husband brought home a beautiful "business acquaintance" for a conference. The wife decided to trap the husband. She asked if she could be excused for a couple of hours as she had some important work to do at her ration board.

"Certainly," said the husband. "You do what you've got to do. I'll be busy for a while."

The wife left, but instead of going to the ration board she drove the car around the block, sneaked in the back door of the house and tip-toed into the parlor. She discovered what she had expected to find. There was her husband kissing the beautiful "business acquaintance."

"Aha!" shouted the wife. "I caught you. I set a trap for you and I caught you."

"That's right, dear," said the husband very calmly. "You caught me. Any time you set a trap for me with bait like this you're going to catch me!"

Likes and Dislikes

By George E. Sokolsky

ELSA MAXWELL RECOUNTS: "With a silent sinking of the heart I found myself sitting next to George Sokolsky. 'George,' I said, 'I'm going to move to another seat. I don't want you to spoil a wonderful evening, because I have a feeling this is going to be a wonderful film.'

"George looked at me sharply. 'What makes you think I'm not going to like this picture?' he asked.

"'Well,' I answered, 'for the simple reason that you don't like anything much.'"

Well, I happened to like what Elsa and I saw that night. It was "The Song of Bernadette." And I like Elsa whose heart is of the purest gold. But admittedly there is much to dislike in this world of ours—much of the fake and bluff and fraud that passes for sound currency because glamorous names are attached to it.

1—FOR INSTANCE, I dislike lies—particularly when designed by those in high places to confuse the people and to gain power for themselves. Certainly in a democracy, the government is accountable to the people, and those who hold public office are servants of the people paid out of their taxes. They have no business telling untruths, half-truths or absolute falsehoods. And when they do, they should be called.

2—I dislike slogans. "Votes for Soldiers!" for instance, is a slogan designed to create the impression that some are opposed to permitting soldiers to vote when the fact is that the discussion is about how to conduct this difficult and special type of election without destroying our traditional constitutional government.

3—I DISLIKE SMEARS. When a man is called a Fascist because he believes in constitutional government, that is a smear. When a man is called an anti-Semite because he preferred Franco to the Communists in Spain, that is a smear. When a man is called an isolationist because he prefers that the United States and Great Britain have a voice in the Polish boundary settlement rather than to leave it to Russia alone, that is a smear. The smear results from associating words which have become unpopular with opinions about which patriotic Americans may differ.

4—I dislike politicians who love power and who sacrifice the traditions of this country to perpetuate themselves in power. I dislike anyone who seeks power for power's sake. I still believe that the third term is an evil.

5—I dislike politicians who speak one way in private and another in public.

6—I DISLIKE men of high office and of high public esteem who permit their speeches and state papers to be prepared for them by scriveners who are in no way responsible for the thoughts they get the great names to express.

7—I dislike men and women who favor Communism but have not the courage to announce their conversion to the Marxist conception of life.

8—I abhor the American who regards his own country as second to some world order or to some foreign land and who is always working on schemes and plans to subordinate American interests and concerns to those of any country in Europe or Asia or all of them put together. An American ought to be for America all the time—or he ought to renounce his American citizenship and join up with the people he prefers.

9—I DISLIKE those who have so twisted our school system that our children grow up without a knowledge of and love for their own country. If that is progress—it still is no good.

10—Why go further? It all comes down to a preference for the square deal to the New Deal. Maybe the truth is old-fashioned and maybe love of country is horse-and-buggy stuff. But I don't believe it—and I mean to say so, Elsa dear!

Chimmy and Welsh Fit For Garden Go Tonight

By JACK CONWAY

HENRY CHMIELEWSKI, Portland shipyard worker, will try to score his twelfth straight ring victory when he clashes with Coley Welsh of Portland in a 10-round bout at a Callahan A. C. show at the Garden tonight. Welch has run up eight wins in a row since he was discharged from the Coast Guard, and he does not intend to permit the heavy thumping Chimmy to halt his surge.

WELSH'S fistic record shows he has won 70 bouts. He is rated with the best middleweights in the world, and is an even-money choice for tonight's tussle.

Chimmy

Chmielewski, who recently outscored Sonny Horne and knocked out Jackie Caparell, is a better hitter than Welsh. He proved this in one of his Portland bouts with Welsh when he had the latter on the floor. Welsh came up from the canvas fighting, and was tossing plenty of punches at the final gong.

The last meeting between Chmielewski and Welsh was for the former's New England welterweight title. The duke went to Welsh.

Welsh is not as hard a hitter as Chmielewski, but he is a better boxer. Welsh has a fine boxing style, and he hits equally well with each hand.

Shipyard Champion

CHMIELEWSKI is the New England shipyard champion. He also proved he has nothing to fear from boxers of the Merchant Marine when he outscored Sonny Horne.

Welsh, as a former member of the Coast Guard, will have the backing of the members of this branch of the service as well as the men of the Navy.

Welsh's New England middleweight crown will not be at stake tonight. Chimmy and Coley have agreed to weigh in above the middleweight notch of 160 pounds.

Matchmaker Eddie Mack has guaranteed Chimmy $1750 for tonight's bout, while Welsh is getting the same amount. Each boxer also has a percentage privilege, and it is expected they will each receive about $2500 under this latter arrangement.

There will be a large delegation of fans from Maine on hand to see the tussle.

Mulligan on Card

THE EIGHT round semi-final will feature Wallace Cross of Newark against Earl Louman of Washington.

Jimmy Mulligan of Lowell, former All-America and A. A. U. champion, will oppose Leo Maher of Montreal over the six-round route. Other six-rounders will find Mike Cascio of the South End battling Paul DiMico of Wakefield and Johnny Parr of New Bedford in action against Tony Hatch of Lynn.

With boxing booming in the East, the Eddie Mack-Jack O'Brien combination looks for a large crowd at the show.

Random Shots at Target

JAKE LaMOTTA, who is expected to meet the winner of the Chimmy-Welsh bout, has become one of the best cards in the boxing game . . . LaMotta is a good puncher and a fair boxer.

Beau Jack and Bob Montgomery each plan to train at least a month for their bout in New York on March 31 . . . The winner will get the title match with Sammy Angott which will be staged in a New York ball park in May and which is expected to draw more than $200,000.

Chicago is doing well with ordinary boxing shows, and it would like to secure some headline attractions . . . Chicago still holds the record for the most money drawn at a boxing show with the mark of $2,400,000 for Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey set in 1927 . . . Tunney's purse for his successful title defense was $989,000 which was the largest amount of money ever received by a boxer for a single contest.

Carpenter Advocates Return of "Spitter"

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 4 (AP) Phillies President Robert R. N. Carpenter today went on record in favor of the return of the "spitball" to "give the pitchers a break."

Carpenter said he thought the game of baseball could stand a few more home runs, as has already been suggested by some of his fellow magnates, but added he was anxious to keep it from getting out of control of the pitchers.

'44 Football Blasted, Navy Cleans Colleges

By HUCK FINNEGAN

There was little enough college football in the vicinity last fall. There may be even less come October. Judge for yourself:

Tufts today was handling a bombshell directive from Washington which decrees that all Naval ROTC students and advanced V-12's be commissioned Feb. 19 (two weeks hence) instead of next December and dispatched pronto to sea duty.

"Zowie!" dirged Track Coach Dinger Dussault. "There goes my track team for the intercollegiates" (March 4). Tufts loses mainstays Ted Sparrow, Harry Drake, Dick Smith among others. Only recently Ted Vogel had been floored by studies, George Kennedy for disciplinary reasons.

HOLY CROSS, IRISH HIT

Let's look beyond the track season. Among the 59 ROTC students who will be leaving Medford Hillside in a hurry are Chick Rutter and Junie Beers, co-captains elect of the Tufts '44 eleven. Alan Sampson, Tony Zullo, Al Webber, George Sweeney, Nick Di Teso of the '43 eleven are gone or are on their way, and youngsters like Walter Lonergan and mayhap Charlie Fortin will be going with Rutter and Beers. And you can bet if the directive hit Tufts it has hit every other V-12 college in the nation, or will 'ere long.

So Holy Cross will be losing George Connor and Red McAfee for two, and Dartmouth will be losing John Monohan, Art Vorys, Norman Brown, Ed Gustafson, Larry Bartnick and Hal Bowman, all of whom figured to play against Notre Dame at Fenway Park next November.

Leahy's juggernaut? Captain Pat Filley had just expressed the hope he'd be around to face the Indians. But he won't be. Nor will Jim White, John Yonakor, Bob Kelley, Johnny Lujack and others.

If the order is expanded to include Marine trainees—which seems certain—then Dartmouth also will lose Bob Mangene, Don Kasprzak, John Buroughs, Tom Donovan, Alex Wizbicki, Jim Landrigan, and Co. Notre Dame also will lose another bundle.

What'll be left? Perhaps a couple of freshman V-12's who didn't enter college until September, like Billy West of Dartmouth and Bill Sullivan of Holy Cross. But even freshmen may disappear before fall if the manpower exigencies demand.

There will be replacements, of course. Tufts expects 100 ROTC students in a few months and has been promised a complement of V-12's. But there has been such a hullabaloo in Congress about drafting married men with children while huskies are still playing college football that the entire collegiate complexion may be changed before fall.

IRISH, DARTMOUTH GAME

This may be the tip-off: Middlebury, housing a naval unit, has asked Tufts to cancel the football game scheduled for next fall.

Said Faculty of Director of Athletics, Pop Houston: "That settles it. No athletic contests will be scheduled beyond the present semester." Which ends Feb. 19.

So don't be in too much of a hurry to lay $6.60 on the line for those Notre Dame-Dartmouth tickets. The game may take place as scheduled and we sincerely hope it does. But from the looks of things it won't be a $6.60 attraction.

The Washington directive hit Tufts' Ted Sparrow amidships. "Gee," pined the hurdler who is of IC4-A championship timber, "I not only had figured on staying here until December but I just completed plans to be married in November" . . . Tufts is sending a one-mile relay team of Ray Southwick, Dick Smith, Ed Palmieri and Harry Drake to Millrose along with hurdlers Sparrow and John Lennon . . . Harvard is sending no representatives to the NY meet, BC will send a one-mile relay of Ralph King, John O'Neill, Joe McDavitt and Capt. Herb McKenley . . .

Syd Howe Back in Factory After Setting Ice Record

DETROIT, Feb. 4 (AP)—How well are war worker-athletes doing on the home front?

The answer in the case of Sydney Harris Howe is plenty good. A professional hockey player at night, Howe works a regular day shift in the tool room of a Detroit war plant, and today he holds a scoring record that surpasses the performance of Howie Morenz, Charley Conacher, Pit Lepine and other greats of the ice game.

Last night against the New York Rangers, Howe poked in six goals as the Detroit Red Wings streaked to a 12 to 2 National League victory. The 32-year-old Howe got them in pairs, two in each period, the first set coming 18 seconds apart. His victim was rookie goalie Ken McAuley.

"I just hit a hot night," said Howe with a broad grin in the dressing room. "I wonder what the boys in the shop will say now. Yes, I'll be on the job at 7:10 a. m. just like I am six days a week."

Howe's performance shattered a league record of five goals established in 1917 by Harry Hyland of the Montreal Wanderers and equaled eight times. Last season Ray Getliffe shot five goals for the Montreal Canadiens.

Howe's scoring spree came belatedly in the way of celebration. Last Saturday against Boston he gathered his 200th major league goal and became the 12th player in league history to reach that mark.

This is Howe's 15th season in the National League. A native of Ottawa, he broke in with his home team but went to Philadelphia and St. Louis before coming to Detroit with another player ten years ago for a reported $50,000, one of hockey's biggest money deals on record.

His big splurge last night gave the headline writers their inning. Said one streamer headline triumphantly: "Here's how: Howe, Howe, Howe, Howe—and how."

COBB WILLING TO DON SUIT TO AID GAME

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4 (AP)—Somewhat bald and going on 58, the man who was once the equivalent of spiked lightning in baseball, lives the mellow life of a country squire at suburban Atherton, Cal. now.

You'll remember him as Tyrus Raymond Cobb of Detroit Tigers fame, one of the immortals of the game.

Ty Cobb still is the hotspur but to a far lesser degree than when he was fighting with rival players, umpires, his own team mates and the fans. He'll play as hard today for a dollar stake on the links as when he was batting over .300 for 23 years and putting together the greatest number of major league records ever held by an individual.

TY BIT WORRIED

What is baseball's future in these war times? Necessarily Cobb has no more knowledge than the next man. Frankly, he is a bit worried but is optimistic to believe the sport will endure.

"Baseball is in a pretty tough position and the war requirements will continue to take its men," Cobb said. "It may become increasingly difficult to carry on but those in charge must and will see it through. Of that I am certain. The time to bear down is when the going is the hardest.

"Until the highest authority tells them to close down, the baseball men should take the attitude they have a mission to perform. I mean by that the obligation to furnish healthy entertainment for the country at large, which after all sums up in part as a boost for morale.

"People just can't hold their breath until after the war is over. My personal belief is that the servicemen will want the sport continued in some fashion, short of an extreme national emergency.

WOULD DON SPANGLES

"Baseball never will ask for any special favors to prolong its life. Neither should it close up shop voluntarily. There isn't a baseball player living who wouldn't shoulder a gun if asked to, and if it is necessary they'll fall into line.

"I hope that league baseball, even if it is played by old men, will receive some official recognition that it is essential to morale. If worst comes to worst, I'd get back into harness myself to help preserve it."

Rickey Approves of Durocher Trip

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (INS)—Leo Durocher, the Brooklyn Dodger boss who is awaiting governmental okay for an overseas jaunt to entertain servicemen, had one less worry today—Branch Rickey, the front-office boss, has given him his blessing to make the trip.

Rickey also disclosed that in the event Durocher won't be able to return in time to handle the spring training routine Coach Chuck Dressen will be called in to handle the reins temporarily.

NOTED STARS SIGNED FOR HOLLIS 600

Throwing a double intersectional slant on the Hollis 600, famous trophy race of the B. A. A. meet (Feb. 12) John Fulton of Stanford, a flying 4-F, has entered to challenge Bob Ufer of Michigan.

Fulton's challenge is backed by authority. He holds the world outdoor marks for both 600 meters and 660 yards. He streaked into the record books at Los Angeles, last May, by covering these "freak" distances in 1:18.9. The old record (1:20.4) has eluded even such an immortal as Ted Meredith.

The ultimate field in the Hollis event may put the 600 on top of all the gaudy trophy runs in the B. A. A. meet. Des Wadsworth will leave for New York tonight to sign up two other top 600 yarders.

Fulton, Ufer (winner of the New York, K. of C. 600 last season) and Lieut. Frank Cotter, USMC, Quantico, are definite starters in the Hollis 600. Cotter is the former NYU racer, runner-up for the IC4-A 440 title, and third in the National AAU indoor 600 a year ago.

Merritt's Future in Hands of Court

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (INS)—Jockey Bobby Merritt's attempt to wrest a riding license from the New York State Racing Commission and the Jockey Club had finished its second round today, but the decision will not be known for two weeks.

Attorneys for the racing commission, jockey club and jockey were heard separately by five judges of that court.

Honor Scribe

CHICAGO, Feb. 4 (AP)—Baseball's old timers joined with present diamond stars and fans last night in paying tribute to Jimmy Corcoran, a veteran Chicago newspaper sports writer who died yesterday.

At the opening of the Old Timers' Baseball Association's 25th annual dinner, some 1100 persons stood for a minute in silent tribute to the memory of Corcoran.

In more than 20 years of sports writing for the Chicago Herald-American, the 48-year-old Corcoran had travelled baseball's major league circuit many times with the White Sox and Cubs.

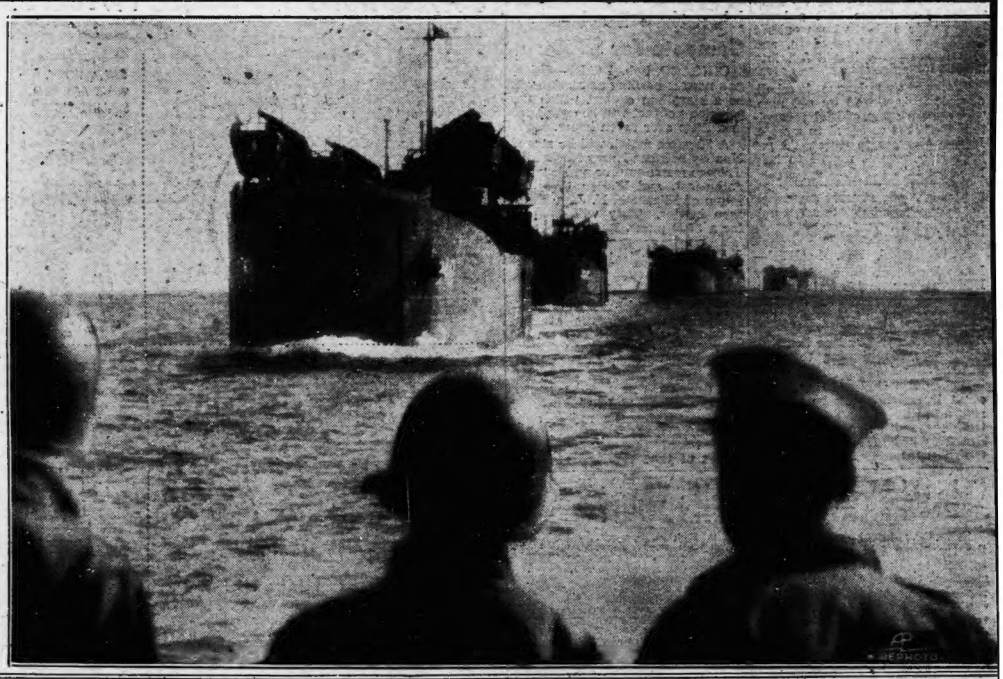
Impressive is this picture . . . taken at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, when Yank Martin Mariners, on convoy duty, filed past the remarkable statue of Christos Redemptor —Christ the Redeemer — which stands atop the Corcovado Peak by the harbor.



Invasion

Two American soldiers and a sailor watch following ships of the horizon-long convoy that brought troops to the Nettuno Beach . . . for the jump-attack against Rome. Meanwhile, Nazis were reported mobilizing for counter-attack on beachhead.
